

ELOPE TO MEXICO AND MARRY TO TUNE OF WHIZZING BULLETS

Los Angeles.—Amid whizzing bullets and cries of battle, Vida Edwards, one of the prettiest girls of this city, and Allen Henderson, prominent business man, were secretly married by a Spanish padre recently in an old adobe church at Naco, Mex., after a romantic elopement.

The news of the marriage came out when the Hendersons arrived in San Francisco on their honeymoon tour of the world. Not even their closest friends knew of the elopement.

It was a case of love at first sight, as the young couple had known each other only a month before they decided to marry. Business called Henderson to Mexico, and, desiring to avoid the flurry of a formal wedding, they ran away one night, with only the mother of Mrs. Henderson in the secret.

Mrs. Henderson is a striking young girl of the brunette type.
